INTRODUCTION TO LINE JUDGING

WHAT IS A LINE JUDGE?

One of four officials who knows the AwanaGames or Sparks-a-Rama events and rules; assists the circle director in the administration of the games on the circle.

AwanaGames officiating requires efficiency and attention to details. Note these four primary roles that a line judge assumes:

(1) JUDGE — A line judge determines whether or not players violate the rules.

(2) SERVANT — A line judge, by attitude and actions, is a servant to the clubbers and coaches. It is his goal to make the meet(s) as meaningful as possible for them.

(3) WITNESS — A line judge, by emotions, attitude, and actions, strives to be a testimony to the unsaved parents and clubbers of the life-changing power of trusting Christ as Savior.

(4) LEADER — A line judge is a leader; an example to coaches, clubbers, and spectators in response to pressure situations.

THANK YOU for accepting the challenge of officiating at an AwanaGames or a Sparks-a-Rama meet. We pray you will recognize the value of your ministry. Together we may be used greatly of the Lord to bring unsaved people to Him and to encourage children.

The Key — PROPER COMMUNICATION!

Line judges, as well as all AwanaGames and Sparks-a-Rama staff, MUST follow the chain of command as diagrammed in the Rule Books. Remember, line judges are responsible to communicate primarily with the circle director and the coaches. Line judges never “coach” the players. Any coach has the right to request that you join him in discussing an issue with the circle director. However, a coach does not have the right to discuss any situation with the circle director without you being present.

Each judge must realize the crucial importance of accurate communication. Here are some important guidelines:

- 1. Relax the coaches by talking with them and SMILING!
- 2. Understand your coaches. Remember what they’ve gone through to get a team to the meet; think of yourself in their shoes. You’ll understand their tension.
- 3. Never get upset or take offense when a coach complains or asks a question. Concentrate on what the coach is saying, rather than on your feelings or emotions.
- 4. Always remain non-argumentative and calm. Our highest responsibility is to maintain a positive testimony for our Lord. A show of temper could ruin that testimony.
- 5. Never be pushy. If there is confusion, help the circle director slow things down, so the confusion is cleared up.
- 6. Encourage coaches that might be having trouble. Say something, if you can, to ease their tension.
- 7. Make sure players are clear on what they are doing (especially in Sparks-a-Rama) before an event starts. However, never coach them.
- 8. Don’t GUESS! If you don’t know how to make a call, tell the circle director what you know and let him make the decision!
- 9. Be helpful. Some officials feel they must be stone-faced in order to show objectivity. But, we want to show our clubbers that we care about them, so we MUST treat team members with gentleness and interest. However, never become involved in any way with a coach or the team members that might be viewed as partiality.
- 10. As they are ready to start, tell the players, “Do your best,” or encourage them in an impartial way.
- 11. Keep the coaches informed. Tell them the reason for any disqualifications or reruns.

12. Congratulate and thank the coach after the meet is over. Take time to catch the eye of all clubbers as you hand out awards and thank them for their efforts.
13. Never look at your responsibility as being against the coaches or disputing them in any way. We are partners together in this ministry for the Lord! Remain professional, friendly, and helpful, but never become emotionally involved.

Remember. You're an important tool that God uses to create a positive witness for His gospel in the hearts of unsaved clubbers and parents!

BEFORE DAY OF EVENTS ...

1. Review the manual and rulebook(s) several times.
2. Practice officiating at your clubs' practices. It will help you, and help them, too.
3. Select the proper dress. AWANA RECOMMENDS THAT ALL JUDGES WEAR DARK PANTS (NO JEANS) AND TENNIS SHOES. Awana provides your shirt and other equipment at the meet.
4. Pray for God's blessing on our ministry together.

ON THE DAY OF EVENTS ...

1. Arrive at least one hour early.
2. Report to the staff table and the staff coordinator will direct you where to go to pick up your line judge shirt.
3. Change into your judge's shirt. Report back to the head line judge or circle director to review rules together before you go out on the floor.
4. Be ready to help get the teams into their positions. This responsibility may involve getting the clubbers on the floor or being a part of the flag ceremony.
5. If needed, obtain the roster sheets from your coaches; check the ages of the children competing.
6. Make sure all the team members and their coaches are wearing gym shoes. If any are not, inform the coach.
7. Coaches' meeting: Circle Directors and line judges should meet with coaches at time and place specified by missionary or event coordinator.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

You need to know the following procedures:

1. Line up on your own line for the flag ceremony. Move to the next team for the first event, going counterclockwise. You will continue to rotate counterclockwise for each event. In the Balloon Relay, you will rotate with each heat.
2. Raise your hand when your team is ready to begin an event. The circle director will then raise his hand to indicate the circle is ready.
3. Help the circle director determine the order in which the teams finish. Always remember the place your team finishes. If your team is disqualified, watch the other teams to determine which team is awarded the point.
4. When there is a false start in a running event, immediately jump in front of the runners with your hands spread out to stop them from going further. Then prepare the team for a restart. Awana does not recommend any physical touching of clubbers.
5. Notify the circle director of the reason for any disqualifications.
6. Report any cause for deducting sportsmanship points to the circle director and allow him to make the decision.
7. Aid the coaches during the speaker presentation by sitting with the clubbers and helping them to be attentive.
